Hello Ben

Megan has forwarded your email from today, April 2.

Thank you for making us aware of the current situation. It sounds very stressful and upsetting, especially so close to the start of Brighton Fringe.

We will not approach the police unless you instruct us to do so. The screenshot of the message from Jon Dixon at Sussex Police clearly indicates the seriousness of the situation. For transparency, we have no record of allegations from the individual mentioned in your email.

With your agreement, from now and throughout the Fringe, I can ensure that the entire Brighton Fringe team is briefed about the situation. Should this person approach any team member regarding you or Half a Camel, we will inform you via email immediately.

I'd also like to meet with you before the Fringe begins. Laura and I are meeting with all larger venues and venue managers who are hosting 30+ shows to discuss how we can support them during the Fringe and address any specific needs.

Would you be available to meet next week? the morning of either Tuesday 8 or Wednesday 9 April would work well for us.

I want to reiterate that we are here to help and support you through this difficult situation. Please contact me if anything changes or if you would like us to communicate with the police. Just a suggestion, but would it be worth putting an out of office on to let your artists know that you may take 48 hrs to reply, so they don't keep contacting you?

Let me know if you can join us next week - it would be great to catch up with you.

Many thanks

Amy

Yeah that'd be good if you could, I'm meeting with Veritas tomorrow to work out a plan for the fringe, mentally and logistically. I'm not doing a show apart from that one set up as a deterrent, she lives 2 mins from me and PUCK, the venues have all been supportive, but I need to build up confidence to be out and about without giving away where I am, and be mentally strong for the acts, no one can know, but people can tell I'm not right, it's isolated me completely. I'm putting my name on shows to test the water at the moment as she shows up.
Next week should be alright can i let you know when would work best
Thanks a lot Ben

Hello Ben

I hope that you're meeting with Veritas went well and that you have formed a solid plan for this May.

It would be really good to catch up next week, and if you're happy to do so share some or all of the plan you have put together with Veritas.

Moving forward, anything to do with your personal situation, please do refer to me and Laura. If you need any support with your artists and or venues please do contact Artists Services team on the usual email takepart@brightonfringe.org.

I'm now off until next Tuesday. If I haven't heard from you by then I'll drop you an email to see how you're doing.

Many thanks

Amy
